

From the Lulu website (or your POD site of choice) choose Create - Print Books

Click Start My Book and login if you have an account. If you don't have one now might be a good time to create one.

Use the following settings:

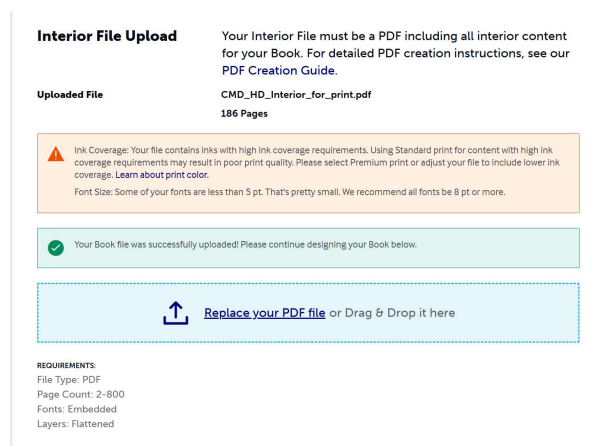

Select a Product Type: "Print Book"

Select a Goal: "Print Your Book"

Project Title: You can use whatever you like here. I used "CMD HD Remaster"

Book Category: Once again you can choose whatever you like. I used "Computers & Technology"

Click "Design Your Project" to continue

The image is a screenshot of the 'Interior File Upload' section on the Lulu website. It shows a table with the uploaded file 'CMD_HD_Interior_for_print.pdf' and its page count '186 Pages'. Below the table, there is a warning box about ink coverage, a green success message stating 'Your Book file was successfully uploaded!', and a dashed box for replacing the PDF file. At the bottom, there are requirements for the file: PDF format, 2-800 pages, embedded fonts, and flattened layers.

Next upload the Interior book pages in the Interior File Upload box.

Select the CMD_HD_Interior_for_print.pdf file. Once it uploads and checks you will see this screen. You can ignore the Ink Coverage alert as we will use the premium paper. The font size alert is fine as well and can be ignored.

Use the following settings:

Interior Color: Premium Black & White

Paper Type: 80# White - Coated

Binding Type: Paperback Coil Bound

Cover Finish: Glossy

Upload the cover file CMDHDCover.pdf and you should see this in the cover design box. If you wait a few minutes Lulu will create a sample book for you to review before continuing. This allows you to page through the virtual print and see how it will look.

Click Review Book to continue. You will be presented with an information screen to confirm your order and publish your book.

Your book specifications should match this example.

Click “Confirm and Publish”. Once it successfully publishes you will get the option to add it to your cart.

From there just follow the checkout process.

Hope you enjoy the book!
